Manage Exam Stress - The Heartfulness Way

Date : 22nd April 2021

Resource Person : Ms. Rakhee Arora and Ms. Namrata Walvekar (9870431888)

No of Students : 38

Platform : Zoom

SIES College of Commerce & Economics with the help of Department of IT & Department of Financial Markets organized a webinar on How to Manage Stress by the Heartfulness way via online platform on ZOOM. “Manage Exam Stress - The Heartfulness Way” a non-profit organization was in-charge to conduct the webinar on 22nd of April at 11:00am. Among all the professional trainers Ms. Rakhee Arora and Ms. Namrata Walvekar were the resource person for the webinar.

The Heartfulness webinar was inaugurated by Ms. Falguni Mathews by reflecting upon the journey and the success of The Heartfulness. The successful journey of Heartfulness made attendees more curious and eager to be a part of the webinar. Though in the initial stage of the session the pressure was given on the word “STRESS” which is common in this pandemic but the fun interaction between trainers and attendees turned it into finding out various ways to be grateful and connected to our hearts which basically was the motive. After providing with the deep insight and theoretical knowledge for the reason behind stress and its effects, it was then time to be more practical. Ms. Rakhee Arora quoted “while we may not have full control over the external environment, we can slowly gain mastery over the internal environment by accepting and regulating the mind.” Attendees were then asked to follow the trainer in the process to connect our hearts and meditate along with them. After the meditation process there was a feeling of relief and relaxation among attendees.

As the event was approaching towards the end, the attendees presented a vote of thanks to the team of Heartfulness for their gentle gesture for making them believe that meditation can reintroduce you to the part that’s been missing. The event was then declared to be successful as it could reach to the minds of the attendees and bring out a positive response through them.

WEBINAR REPORT

Title of Webinar: BLOCKCHAIN TECHNOLOGY AND FUTURE

Date: 6th February, 2021

Timings: 03.00 pm to 4.30 pm

Guest Speaker: Mr. Akshay Ridlan

The following report is a consolidation of our feedback about the Webinar

In the presence of the SIES undergraduates and through constant encouragement from our faculty, a webinar was hosted by the IT department to familiarize the students with Blockchain Development- an ever-growing field in the IT sector. Mr Ajay Gupta coordinated the webinar and introduced the speaker of the day, Mr Akshay Ridlan, a MEAN Stack Developer who is currently working on Blockchain Ethereum Technology Project. The webinar started with an overview of the session and the key points to be discussed. How do they work, what problems do they solve, and how can they be used?

So, what exactly is Blockchain? As the name indicates, a Blockchain is a chain of blocks that contains information. It was initially intended to timestamp digital documents so that it's impossible to backdate them or to tamper with them, almost like a notary. The first things that come to mind when we think about Blockchains are Bitcoins, Cryptocurrency, smart contracts; but all these are a far cry from what Blockchains actually is. Students were given the following example for better understanding - Consider; Person A and Person B. If both want to share an agreement, they will sign and store it into Blockchains. Similarly, all people involved in a contract have a copy and proof of work. The blocks of data are secured through end-to-end encryption and bound to each other using cryptographic principles.

Coming to the next slide; it is about the applications of Blockchain in today's world, including finance, asset management, insurance, smart property, healthcare, music, personal identification and smart contracts. Blockchain in finance creates new opportunities to streamline order-to-cash, trade finance, intercompany transactions, and reconciliation. JP Morgan, one of the biggest investment banks in the US, believes that Bitcoin can compete with gold as an alternative currency in the long term. In October of 2020, PayPal launched a new service that made it possible for their account holders to buy, sell, or hold cryptocurrency, or to use it to buy stuff at 26 million different merchants. In asset management, Blockchains allow us to record property handed down from person to person. Information on previous owners will be stored with a timestamp. A timestamp is a critical aspect of a Blockchain; it keeps track of transaction dates. The ownership will be transferred, but previous owners remain stakeholders of the data; data being the digital copy of house ownership.

Blockchain optimizes the efficiency, security and transparency of the insurance industry. It has benefitted by streamlining insurance claims processing, boosting cybersecurity protocols and even speeding up payment times. Proof of work is shared between the client and the company. Definitely, there is a risk factor we are dealing with here, but who says it isn't there anyway? Frauds have wrongly been an integral part of insurance methodologies. Smart keys are used to facilitate ownership rights. So, for example, you might only be able to access and use a car if you have the right smart key stored on your phone. The same could be true for a smart-house. These keys can then be exchanged, and the exchange is verified using the Blockchain. There are two types of keys a public key or a private key that give access but are in an encrypted format. The Blockchain thus becomes a system for recording and managing property rights. Blockchain has a wide range of applications and uses in healthcare. The ledger technology facilitates the secure transfer of patient medical records, operates the medicine supply chain and helps healthcare researchers unlock genetic code.

Blockchain in music is an initiative to help identify the rightful music rights holders and originators to receive fair royalty payments. The initiative believes that Blockchain can bring transparency and more in-depth data insights, assisting artists to get fairly paid. Blockchain has facilitated the so-called self-sovereign identity, which is inherently unalterable and more secure than traditional identity systems. Individuals would use these to verify their identity, removing the need for passwords. In Blockchain-based smart contracts, the parties first negotiate and agree to the terms of the agreement before memorializing the terms in smart contract code that are stored inside the Blockchain. Smart contracts allow the performance of dependable transactions without the engagement of third parties. It is a decentralized method, which means that intermediaries at the moment of confirming deals are not required.

Now, coming to the most critical part, that is cryptocurrency. A quick definition accompanied by an explanation was given - Cryptocurrency is an internet-based medium of exchange that uses cryptographical functions to conduct financial transactions. Cryptocurrencies leverage Blockchain technology to gain decentralization, transparency and immutability. The most important feature of a cryptocurrency is that it is not controlled by any central authority: the nature of Blockchain makes it immune to the old ways of government control and interference.

Moving onto the current market scenario for Blockchains; is it still relevant in 2021? More so than ever, actually! In 2020, Microsoft integrated Lition Blockchain into Azure so that Microsoft Azure's worldwide enterprise clients can develop, test and deploy Lition side chains and applications with ease on its platform. Furthermore, the latest news was discussed to understand, and I quote, "How the big shots are doing it."

Next, we dove headfirst into the future of Blockchains or more specifically, the benefit of such an upcoming technology on career prospects for the IT undergraduates at SIES College. Blockchain is undoubtedly an emerging technology to the point where predictions about its potential are still mixed with research still going on. In a TechRepublic Research study, 70% of professionals said they hadn't used Blockchain. But 64% said that they expect Blockchain to affect their industry somehow, with a majority predicting a positive result.

So many technologies come and go, but why is Blockchain into the market? Because there is a need, so there is a demand. When there is a demand, there needs to be a supply. Mr Ridlan emphasized the importance to learn a hot technology to stand out from the crowd due to the heavy competition. He later ventured into his personal experience and how the company he is currently working with is his third company in the past year.

He has worked on numerous projects and conducted research work on Blockchains. Considering the reason for Mr Ridlan's passion for Blockchain started during his third-year, working on a research paper on 'Intellectual property rights & Innovation - Blockchain technology.' He went on to talk about how it's never too early to start. It's tough, it's risky, but it is satisfactory at the end of the day; understanding problems and solving them! Blockchain isn't about automation, it's about creation, and as students at SIES we are presented with an opportunity, a platform to make these creations come to life in the form of projects and similar webinars to discuss and guide us through it.

The session ended with the teachers reminiscing and basking in the proud feeling of fulfilment after seeing their student reach such great heights. A quick vote of thanks by Mamta Ma'am marked the webinar's conclusion.

KnowMo (Know More) Day

Date: 20th March, Saturday 2021.

Platform: MS Teams

Time: 10:00 am to 12 noon

Title of Seminar: Overview of AI, ML, Data Science, Data Analytics in Real Time

Guest Speaker: Mr. Madhav Mishra, Data Scientist @ Telstra & Ex-Product Manager @ Reliance JIO.

Date: 20th March, Saturday 2021.

Platform: MS Teams

Time: 12:30pm to 2:30pm-

Title of Seminar: Overview of Coffee Script and RoR Guest Speaker: Mr. Kannan Maravar, MSc.IT, Director @ Keights DigiTech Studios Pvt Ltd.

In Real Time: AI, Data Science & Machine Learning

The KnowMo Day webinars were attended by students from various courses with an aim to be in SYNC with current needs and updates in the field of IT. The webinar included an overview of AI, Data Science, Machine Learning and tools, techniques & libraries to get an idea of the current happenings in the industry.

AI is intelligence demonstrated by machines, which is unlike natural intelligence displayed by humans and animals. We were then introduced to Cousins of AI – Machine learning and Deep learning leading to the discussion about AI in automobiles. The Yamaha MOTORiD concept is an intelligent, AI enabled, self-riding, self-balancing electric motorcycle that looks like more like a sci-fi movie prop than a fully functioning motorcycle. Data Science is a concept to unify Statistics, Data Analytics and the related methods in order to understand and analyse actual phenomena with data. Machine Learning is the study of computer algorithms that improve automatically through experience. It is seen as a subset of AI.

On the other hand, Advanced ML, also known as Deep learning - is an AI function that mimics the workings of the human brain in processing data for use in detecting objects, recognizing speech, translating languages, and making decisions. Furthermore, upcoming job positions in the industry with an incredible budding future scope were discussed. The Iceberg theory of Success was talked about and how there is always more than what appears on the surface. About how every success story has rejections, sleepless nights, depression, goals and determination. Being prepared and starting early, making a roadmap, setting a target and achieving that are the baby steps for success.

Next, we dove headfirst into a brief overview of RPA – Robotic Process Automation is an emerging form of business process automation technology based on the notion of software robots and AI workers. It enables users to create software bots that can learn, mimic, and then execute rules-based business processes by observing human digital actions. Show your bots what to do, then let them do the work. They can interact with any application or system the same way people do.

A Cup of CoffeeScript: The Better JavaScript?

The webinar presentation started with a basic overview of CoffeeScript & RoR features. CoffeeScript is a programming language that compiles into JavaScript. The speaker emphasized the importance of JS language for a programmer, a language that is ruling the market.

CoffeeScript originated in 2014, its code compiles one-to-one into the equivalent JS. Its syntax takes advantage of modern OO languages like Ruby/Python. Getting Started with Rails. So, what is Ruby? Ruby is an Object-Oriented Interpreted Programming language. The following example was provided by Mr. Kanan, highlighting its speed and advantage over JS.

JAVA (Machine code - Computer): Code – Compiler – Runtime Environment – Computer

RUBY : Code – Interpreter – Computer

RoR has standard features with easier code, easy maintenance and is used for big projects and most top sites like Twitter, Hulu, GitHub, Airbnb and Basecamp. Startup friendly, flexible, well-supported — what else can we add about RoR framework?

The Rails framework is excellent for quick application development. It's well-known for security strength. All this makes RoR arguably the fastest and most efficient way to build websites and web applications.

The webinars definitely lived up to their name as the KnowMo Day! The amount of content provided was unreal, facilitating as a stepping stone for all attendees in the web development industry. A quick vote of thanks by Mamta Ma'am marked the webinar's conclusion.
