Accounting for Investments AS 13

CA Prasanna M.Tambe

Introduction

- Fixed income bearing securities - bonds, debentures, preference shares
- Variable income bearing securities - equity shares
- Interest
$>$ Calculated on nominal value
$\Rightarrow$ Accrues on specified dates
$>$ Paid to the security holder on due date

Accounting for interest on transfer of security

- Transfer on due date - interest belongs to seller
- Transfer on other date -
$>$ Buyer receives interest on due date
$>$ Interest from previous due date till date of transfer belongs to seller
$>$ Interest from date of transfer till current due date belongs to buyer

Pricing of security

- Ex interest price - means a price paid towards cost of security and excludes interest
- Cum interest price - means price paid towards cost of security plus interest accrued till date
- Assumption of ex interest price if no information is available

Accounting for Equity shares

- Dividend calculation on Face value if shares are fully paid up
- Dividend accrues on declaration and paid to share holder who owns the shares on date of book closure
- Dividend accounted only when received
- Dividend for pre acquisition period is capital receipt and credited to Investment a/c
- Investment a/c may have NV & Cost columns. Dividend a/c can be prepared as a separate account.
- Bonus shares received are entered in FV column with Zero cost.
- Right shares subscribed are entered in FV column with cost.
- Sale of right entitlements is usually credited to P&L a/c.
